PREFACE

This catalog comprises about 3,500 titles of books commonly found in the children's departments of public libraries. It is issued also in two other editions including approximately 1,000 and 2,000 titles respectively.

Like the first edition, this new Catalog is based on carefully selected library lists of best books, in the belief that a selection based on the cumulated judgment of experienced librarians has a value beyond that of any single list based on the judgment of one person, however wise. The 1909 Catalog was based on 24 selected lists. For the second edition of the Catalog, published 1916-1917, in addition to these, the A. L. A. Catalog Supplement of 1911, the A. L. A. Booklist and some 28 other library bulletins and juvenile lists were clipped and mounted as a further basis of selection. Copies of all notes made on current juvenile books during the past year and a half have also been received from the New York State Library, as well as a number of valuable notes from the Cleveland Public Library.

The editor has been fortunate in securing the advice and cooperation of Miss Agnes Cowing, of the Pratt Institute Free Library; Miss Alice I. Hazeltine, of the St. Louis Public Library; Miss Hatch, of the Cleveland Public Library, and of the staff of the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh. These collaborators, with the exception of Miss Hatch, have checked up the Catalog of 1909, and some 1,600 additional titles (author entries and notes for which were sent in galley proof), suggesting omissions and additions, and giving advice as to which titles should be included in the three lists of 1,000, 2,000, and 3,500. Miss Hatch checked the titles in such a way as to show (a) books in the Cleveland Public Library, (b) books no longer used there, (c) books which meet school demand only, (d) books previously used by reason of school demand and no longer useful, and (e) books which are in the adult collection but used with certain children.

The final decision as to the inclusion or exclusion of any title has necessarily been made by the editor in accordance with the weight of evidence. Inasmuch as the selection has been made in this manner, the cooperators should not be held individually responsible for the result. No title to which any serious objection has been made has been included unless there has been a strongly preponderating weight of evidence in its favor.

The 3,500-title list includes a few books in French and German; also a few 1916 books published too late for inclusion in the 2,000-title list.

The books are entered under author, title and subject, arranged in one alphabet, with connecting references. Authors' names have been entered in the form presumably most familiar to the child. The subject headings have been carefully compared with Miss Mann's "Subject Headings for Juvenile Catalogs," to which they in the main conform. The editor has, however, thought best to keep under United States—History, and its subheads, the material usually entered there in adult catalogs.

Five hundred volumes were analyzed, some of them fully, others partially, for the Catalog of 1909. For the second edition, 212 volumes have been analyzed for the 1,000-title list, 447 volumes for the 2,000-title list and 700 volumes for the 3,500-title list. A special attempt has been made to bring out Boy Scout material, material on how to make and do things and material on other topics for which frequent demands are made on children's librarians today. Comparatively little analytical work has been done on fairy tales, myths and legends, as these have been covered by Miss M. H. Eastman's "Index to Fairy Tales, Myths and Legends," published by the Boston Book Company in 1915.

Dates have been given in most cases, except for fiction and mythology. The latest copyright date, when readily ascertainable, has been the one chosen. Publishers and prices have also been added to the author entries and a list of publishers, with addresses, appended. The prices are in most cases taken from the latest catalogs of the publishers and the 1916 Publishers' Trade List Annual. A few out of print books have been included and the fact that they are out of print noted.

The numbers in parentheses after titles indicate approximately the grades for which the books are suitable, and have been taken for the most part from various library lists. Two of the collaborators also made suggestions as to grading. When there has been considerable discrepancy in the grading, an average has been taken. The impossibility of accurate grading is fully recognized by the editor, and grades have been given only because of the practically unanimous demand for them by the children's librarians questioned on the subject.

Most of the titles are annotated. The annotations are chiefly descriptive, occasionally evaluative and comparative, and have been taken in the main from the lists and bulletins used as a basis for selection.

Notes will usually be found under the author entry only, but in editions of certain classics, such as the Arabian nights' entertainments, edited by F. J. Olcott, notes have been repeated under the name of the editor.

Many editions of such classics as Andersen, Grimm, Arabian Nights' Entertainments, etc., have been given.

Short lists are appended entitled: Aids to story-telling; Books about children's reading; Magazines for children. Books and magazines on these lists are not entered in the main alphabet.

The St. Nicholas material included in the 1909 Catalog has been omitted, as the majority of children's librarians consulted prefer the material in separate form. A complete index to St. Nicholas, covering volume one to date, will be issued in the near future.

Publishers have generously given for editorial use copies of juveniles, new and old, which after being entered in the Catalog, have been shelved in our Standard library of books run, or to be run, in our Standard Catalog series.

Thanks are due to the many children's librarians who answered the first questionnaires about the Children's Catalog, and to those who have since answered questions on special points connected with it. The editor also wishes to acknowledge here the excellent work of her assistants, Gladys M. Pardoe and Nanon B. Cole, who assembled material, typed copy and verified prices; and Henrietta M. Blas, to whom much credit is due for the careful editorial reading of galley and page proofs.

The Catalog will, it is hoped, prove useful as an aid in the selection of the best books for boys and girls, to parents, teachers, and booksellers, as well as to children's librarians. The inclusion of prices and publishers will make it valuable as a buying list. Teachers will also find it useful in looking up information not contained in the ordinary text-books.

It is hoped by the publishers that all librarians who are kept busy in trying to answer children's questions, or to look up material on school subjects for teachers, will find this Catalog an indispensable help, because of the amount of analytical work that has been done, bringing out under author, title or subject heading parts of books that are of special value. For example, 27 analytical entries have been made for Beard's American Boy's Handy-book, 36 for the American Girl's Handy-book, 134 for Bellamy and Goodwin's Open Sesame, and 398 for Norton's Heart of Oak Books.

It has seemed wise to analyze many books widely approved by children's librarians in this thoro manner, because of a growing belief that the printed page is not only more economical, but is more easily used than the card catalog.

The New Jersey Public Library Commission has placed in the hands of New Jersey teachers and librarians, under the title One thousand good books for children, a New Jersey edition of the Children's Catalog, with a special preface.

Ancient Spanish ballads. Lockhart, J. G., tr.

Andersen, Hans Christian

"There are many editions and several translations. Libraries will find it profitable to the children to own for use in the library at least one or two copies of the beautiful editions; e.g. Fairy tales, translated by Mrs. Lucas, illustrated by the Robinsons, Dutton (J. M. Dent) $2.50; or even Fairy tales, translated by Braekstad, illustrated by Tegner, Century *$5. Of the cheaper editions for ordinary use, 'Stories and tales' and 'Wonder stories,' Houghton *$1 each, and for little children, Fairy tales, edited by Stickney, 2v Ginn *45c each, are good." Ed. scl. A. L. A. cat.

Fairy reader; adapted from Grimm and Andersen, by James Baldwin. Am. bk. *35c (2-3)

Fairy tales; ed. by J. H. Stickney. 2v Ginn ea *45c (3-5)

Arabian nights' entertainments

"The best edition for children is that edited by Dixon [*$2.50].¹ Another attractive edition is prepared by Wiggin and Smith, and illustrated by Parrish. Editions for children are usually based on the French version by Galland, and though romantic and charming, are not truly Oriental. If possible the translation from the Cairo text, by E. W. Lane, should be read aloud to the children. This last version has a breadth and strength that is not in Galland. It pictures the life in the deserts and cities of the Orient, and it relates its wonders with a dignity and definiteness of picturesque detail that convinces the imagination. The drawings by Harvey are delightful and appropriate." Olcott

Arabian nights; ed. by W. H. D. Rouse; il. by Walter Paget. Dutton $2.50; Household ed $2 (4-6)

"Brief and simple version of the most popular tales with beautiful illustrations, some in color, some in half-tone and many in text." Wis. free lib. com.

Arabian nights; il. by W. Heath Robinson, Helen Stratton and others. Dodge $1.50 (4-6)

Arabian nights; their best known tales; ed. by K. D. Wiggin and N. A. Smith; il. in colour by Maxfield Parrish. Scribner *$2.25 (4-6)

Contents: Talking bird, the singing tree and the golden water; Story of the fisherman and the genie; History of the young king of the Black isles; Story of Guldare of the sea; Story of Aladdin; or, The wonderful lamp; Story of Prince Agib; Story of the city of brass; Story of Ali Baba and the forty thieves; History of Codadad and his brothers; Story of Sinbad the voyager

"Twelve full-page plates, individual, highly imaginative, and unsurpassed in richness of color." Pittsburgh

"The ten tales chosen are the best for children. . . . Some of the stories are not so well told for children as in the Lang version." A. L. A. bkl.

Arabian nights' entertainments; based on a translation from the Arabic by E. W. Lane; ed. for young people by F. J. Olcott. Holt *$1.50 (4-6)

"A selection of stories, chosen from the Lang edition except the last two, Ali Baba and Aladdin, which are from the translation by Scott. The illustrations are less interpretive of the spirit of the stories than those by Robinson and Parrish." Cleveland

"Best edition for a children's library." A. L. A. bkl.

Arabian nights' entertainments; selected and ed. by Andrew Lang. Longmans *$1 (4-6)

"Twenty-six stories, including Aladdin, Sindbad the sailor, Fisherman, etc., well edited, printed and illustrated." N. Y. state lib.

Fairy tales from the Arabian nights; ed. by E. Dixon; il. by J. D. Batten. Putnam *$1.25

"Reprint of an edition noteworthy because of its illustrations. Though the plates are somewhat worn, the type is still readable; the narrower margins have resulted in a lighter weight book, easier for circulation." A. L. A. bkl.

"The Putnam edition is the text of Galland and is more complete than the Dutton edition." A. L. A. bkl.

More tales from the Arabian nights; ed. by F. J. Olcott, and il. in color by Willy Pogány. Holt *$1.50 (4-6)

"Supplements her other volume. Thirty-three tales (exclusive of settings) based on the translation by Lane except two, the 'Story of Ahmed' and 'Story of the Princess Periezade,' which are from Scott's translation of Galland's version. Some stories are familiar and some are not." N. Y. state lib.

Selected stories from the Arabian nights; ed. by Samuel Eliot. Houghton *50c (4-5)

Contents: Story of the fisherman; Story of the three sisters; Story of Prince Ahmed; Story of Aladdin; or, the Wonderful lamp; Story of Ali Baba and the forty robbers; Story of Sindbad the sailor

"Six of the stories most popular with children and best adapted to reading in schools. A useful edition, with large clear type and strong binding but unattractively illustrated with old woodcuts." A. L. A. bkl.

Stories from the Arabian nights. Houghton (Riverside school lib.) hf lea *60c; (Riverside lit. ser.) *40c (3-5)

"Thirteen of the best of the stories, carefully edited." Prentice and Power

Stories from the Arabian nights; retold by Laurence Houseman; with [24] drawings by Edmund Dulac. Doran *$1.50 (4-6)

Contents: Ali Baba and the forty thieves; Story of the wicked half-brothers; Story of the princess of Deryabar; Story of the magic horse; Fisherman and the genie; Story of the king of the Ebony isles

Doran also carries an edition with 50 Dulac drawings at *$5

"The pictures are strictly Oriental in tone. . . . Persia has suggested most of the dress and the architecture, with here and there a touch of Cairo or Damascus. . . . The scenery belongs to fairyland or Mr. Rackham's land. But the triumph of the art lies in its suggestion of marvel, of magic, in every line. The only criticism. . . is that there is too much striving after the grotesque. . . . This curious atmosphere of magic, never more brilliantly suggested than in these delightful drawings, enters especially into the scenes in the 'Story of the king of the Ebony isles.'" Athenaeum

"The Rhead book is very large with decorative border for every page and many elaborate illus-color; Shaw is a master of color compositions.

 The Hammond book has only eight illustrations.
 There can be no doubt which of the three Bunyan would approve; surely he did not intend to write a book about draperies and armor, scales and fangs, wings and halos. The inwardness that was his theme shows hardly at all in the magnificent Rhead and Byam Shaw books. It does show in Gertrude Hammond's eight beautiful illustrations. She makes virtue winsome and vice loathsome. She really illustrates Bunyan."

Chaucer for children, by M. E. J. Haweis.

Scribner *$1.25 (5-8)

"Prefaced by an account of Chaucer's life and the London of his day. Gives portions of a number of the tales. Original and modern text in parallel columns. Eight colored pictures, and a number of small woodcuts by the author." Am.
 L. E.

"Though possibly only an exceptional child will enjoy the book, it brings the youthful reader closer to the time of Chaucer than any other version for children." Arnold

Chaucer story book, by Eva March Tappan. Houghton *$1.40 (5-6)

"Eleven of the stories retold in simpler prose

Story of Chaucer's Canterbury pilgrims; retold for children by Katharine Lee Bates. (Canterbury classics) Rand 40c (7-8)

"The knight's tale' is given in Dryden's version. 'The prioress' tale' in Wordsworth's and 'The squire's tale' in Leigh Hunt's. Can be used to advantage in connection with the prose versions, but it will hardly be popular for reading by the children themselves." A. L. A. bkl.

Nature songs and stories. 1914 Comstock pub. co. 75c (1-3)

"The story of each object is told in a simple manner, leading up to the song. The drawings by the most eminent American bird artist, Louis Agassiz Fuertes, the insect drawings by Miss Anna C. Stryke, and the nature photographs by Verne Morton are all made to supplement and make more real the songs." Comstock. Preface [adapted]

 Dot Peerybingle and John the Carrier, Tilly Slowboy and the baby, the sweet blind Bertha, and her father, easily become the friends of the children. For some reasons it is the best work of Dickens to begin with; the plot is less involved, the motives simpler than in most of his books, and the peculiarities of his style are less exaggerated." Prentice and Power
 "Illustrations of the Rand edition are not entirely satisfactory; aside from that its form is very attractive for its small price." Cleveland

Housman, Laurence

- (ed.) Stories from the Arabian nights, with [24] drawings by Edmund Dulac.
 Doran *$1.50; with [50] drawings by Edmund Dulac. *$5 (4-6)
 "The pictures are strictly Oriental in tone. . . .
 Persia has suggested most of the dress and the architecture with here and there a touch of Cairo or Damascus. . . . The scenery belongs to fairyland or Mr. Rackham's land. But the triumph of the art lies in its suggestion of marvel, of magic, in every line. The only criticism . . .
 is that there is too much striving after the grotesque. . . . This curious atmosphere of magic, never more brilliantly suggested than in these delightful drawings, enters especially into the scenes in the 'Story of the king of the Ebony isles.'"

"Opening chapter contains an interesting historical summary of the development of warships from earliest Egyptian galleys to the Armada. The rest deal with British ships. American ships of any period receive scant attention except when referred to for purposes of illustration and comparison, and the book makes no attempt to describe naval engagements. Of the 109 extremely good illustrations only 6 are from photographs of American ships." A. L. A. bkl.

Body and its defenses. (Gulick hygiene ser.) 1910 Ginn *65c (6-8)

"Not one of the volumes in the original 'Gulick hygiene series' (complete in five volumes) but volume 2 in the 'Two-book series,' the first of which is 'Good health.' Largely composed of chapters from the first series, presenting the functions of the body, its diseases and the protective measures that can be used against them. Designed for a brief course in the grammar grades." A. L. A. bkl.

Body at work. (Gulick hygiene ser. v4) 1909 Ginn *50c (6-8)

"Contains a more advanced discussion of the facts of physiology than was possible in the elementary volume 'Good health.' Illustrated with appropriate diagrams and photographs." A. L. A. bkl.

Control of body and mind. (Gulick hygiene ser. v5) 1908 Ginn *60c; school ed *50c (7-8)

"Elementary book on the nervous system, telling very simply and clearly what the nerves do, how they work, how they form habits, how they may be controlled, etc." A. L. A. bkl.

Good health. (Gulick hygiene ser. v1) 1906 Ginn *50c; school ed *40c (5-7)

Health and safety. (Gulick hygiene ser.) 1916 Ginn *40c

"Jewett's 'Health and safety' is identical with 'Good health' except for the additional material on accidents and emergencies, and a few minor corrections and new illustrations." Publisher

Physiology, hygiene and sanitation. (Gulick hygiene ser.) 1916 Ginn *65c

"The present volume is, in some respects, a readjustment of 'The body and its defenses.' Certain subjects treated there have been pressed into smaller compass here; while certain other subjects touched upon there have received more extended treatment here. To a large extent this new subject matter concerns itself with sanitation, hygiene, and the food requirements of the body." Preface

When I was a boy in Belgium. (Children of other lands ser.) 1915 Lothrop *75c (7-8)

"The author, until recently a prosperous merchant in Contich, Belgium, writes interestingly about his school life, the games the boys played, the national holidays, and in telling the events of his life, describes much of the life and customs of the country. Forced to leave his home because of the war and start anew in the United States, he speaks knowingly of the tragedy and misery of the unfortunate country." A. L. A. bk1.

Knipe, Alden Arthur

Captain of the eleven. Harper $1.25

"Lively story of school athletics, summer sports and adventures, telling how a motherless boy proved his pluck to a rather skeptical and neglectful father. Has some fresh and thrilling incidents and rather more human interest than the average boy's story." N. Y. state lib.

Last lap. Harper $1.25

"Continues the school career of Bunny Reeves, hero of the 'Captain of the eleven.' Track athletics and an experience at a Barnegat life-saving station sustain the interest, and Bunny's manly attitude toward teachers, betting and professionalism in athletics distinguish this among recent school stories." N. Y. state lib.

In Young and Field literary readers, v5, p278-84

Lankester, Edwin Ray

Extinct animals. 1905 Holt $1.75 (8)

"Elementary description in interesting language. Many photographs." Pittsburgh

Lansing, Mrs. J. H. See Stickney, Jennie H.

Lansing, Marion Florence

Barbarian and noble. (Mediaeval builders of the modern world) 1911 Ginn *50c; *40c (6-8)

"First of a new series on the middle ages. Sketches cover the period between Drusus and Richard Coeur-de-Lion. More carefully prepared than those in Haaren and Poland's 'Famous men of the middle ages,' but the book is not so attractive in type or illustration." A. L. A. bkl.

Dramatic readings for schools. 1914 Macmillan *50c (5-8)

"Folk tales, story poems and selections from standard fiction, arranged in order of their difficulty with suggestions for their dramatization. Suggestive and helpful to teachers in aiding children to prepare their own dramatic versions." Cleveland

(comp.) Fairy tales. (Open road lib.) 2v Ginn ea *35c (3-5)

"Careful selection of the favorite old tales, told with beautiful simplicity and in clear, forceful language." A. L. A. bkl.

Life in the greenwood. (Open road lib.) Ginn *45c; school ed *35c (4-5)

"Stories of Robin Hood, interspersed with the old ballads. Shorter and simpler than Pyle's 'Merry adventures of Robin Hood,' but less successful in preserving the charm and humor of the original. The style is direct and clear, the language a curious mixture of old and modern English." A. L. A. bkl.

Page, esquire, and knight. (Open road lib.) Ginn *45c; *35c (4-6)

"Tales of King Arthur, Charlemagne, and other heroes of the eleventh, fourteenth, fifteenth, and sixteenth centuries, well told and effectively illustrated. There are many quotations from old ballads." A. L. A. bkl.

(comp.) Quaint old stories to read and act. (Open road lib.) Ginn *45c; *35c

"Collection of simple, dramatic stories, mainly folk tales. The material is well chosen and the versions suitable for reading or dramatization." Cleveland

(ed.) Rhymes and stories. (Open road lib.) Ginn *45c; *35c (1-2)

"Contains Mother Goose rhymes and some of the children's favorite nonsense stories and nursery tales, such as Three billy goats gruff, Chicken little, etc." Pittsburgh

(ed.) Tales of old England in prose and verse. Ginn *45c; school ed *35c (3-4)

"Among them are such favorites as Tom Thumb, Children in the wood, Jack and the beanstalk, Dick Whittington and his cat, Robin Goodfellow, Sir Patrick Spens." A. L. A. bkl.

Book of nursery rhymes; comp. by Charles Welsh. Heath *30c (1-2)

"Verses arranged in four groups: Mother play, Mother stories, Child play, Child stories." Utica

Complete Mother Goose; il. by Ethel F. Betts. 1909 Stokes $1.50 (1-3)

"Collection of about 280 rhymes, illustrated with 11 full-page colored plates and 12 black and white drawings. Very pretty but over-elaborate and wholly modern in conception. Paper and type are excellent and binding substantial." A. L. A. bkl.

Stokes also publishes "Familiar nursery jingles" and "Favorite nursery rhymes," il. by E. F. Betts, at $1 each

Jessie Willcox Smith Mother Goose. 1914 Dodd *$2.50 (1-3)

Too heavy and unwieldy for use with children except as a table book

"Very full collection. The first 51 rhymes with their morals, are taken from a facsimile of the first English edition by Isaiah Thomas; the rest have been carefully selected from previous publications with the idea of retaining only those that have the 'traditional Mother Goose spirit.' Seventeen full page illustrations." A. L. A. bkl.

Jolly Mother Goose annual; il. by B. F. Wright. Rand $1.25 (1-3)

"One of the most charming Mother Goose picture books. 'Our child's favorites,' Rand *50c, is also an attractive collection of verses and stories. Miniature editions are published in the Bye-lo series, 8v, *25c each, and Mother Goose series, 9v, *25c each." Wis. free lib. com.

Little songs of long ago; "more old nursery rhymes"; il. by H. Willebeck Le Mair; the original tunes harmonized by Alfred Moffat. McKay *$1.75 (1-3)

Old nursery rhymes; il. by H. Willebeck Le Mair. 4v McKay ea *35c (1-2)

Contents: Grannie's little rhyme book; Mother's little rhyme book; Auntie's little rhyme book; Nursie's little rhyme book

Old nursery rhymes; il. by Arthur Rackham. Century *$2.50 (1-3)

"Nearly 300 rhymes handsomely printed in large type on serviceable paper. More than sixty black and white illustrations, and 12 colored plates." N. Y. state lib.

"Its selection is excellent—the old verses that the child delights in and remembers—and the illustrations fit them, being much more like the child's thought than the extremely pretty elaborations of Willebeck Le Mair in 'Our old nursery rhymes.'" N. Y. state lib.

Only true Mother Goose melodies. Lothrop 60c (1-3)

Exact reproduction of the first Boston edition, 1833, with an introduction by Edward Everett Hale

Our old nursery rhymes; the original tunes harmonized by Alfred Moffat; il. by H. Willebeck Le Mair. McKay *$1.75 (1-2)

"A fascinating book. Contains 30 Mother Goose rhymes with music; and as many full-page plates in which children, toys and animals are represented in delicate colors with great imaginative insight by H. Willebeck Le Mair. A companion volume, 'Little songs of long ago,' presents 30 different rhymes in the same charming manner. Most of the same pictures, on much smaller scale but still good may be had (McKay 35c each) in the little Nursery rhyme series of 4 volumes, each of which contains 12 of the rhymes from the larger books without the music."  Health habits. (Health series of physiology and hygiene, v1) 1915 Macmillan *45c (5-8)
 "This volume, with the second of the series, 'Health and cleanliness,' presents popularly the most important points on personal hygiene and its relation to the health of the community. They are more complete than the first two of the Gulick series, though they are not so simple, are not so well written, and exaggerate considerably the evil effects of alcohol, tobacco, and coffee. Book 3, 'The body in health,' covers about the same ground as part 2 of 'The human mechanism' by Hough and Sedgwick, but is inferior in presentation, accuracy of statement, and completeness. The last of the series, 'Making the most of life,' aims to show the relation between health and efficiency. The whole series shows the lack of a thorough scientific or medical knowledge of the subject of physiology, yet it is possibly the best series for the grades yet published." A. L. A. bkl.

"Descriptive sketches and colored pictures introducing the child to the life, history and folk lore of various countries. The colored illustrations are taken from beautiful books of travel published by Black. In some books of the series the language and treatment is too mature for all but high school children and adults." Am. L. E.
 "The books are written by English authors, naturally from the English point of view, and use comparisons with English conditions, customs, and ideas. Those written by Mr. Finnemore usually make excellent selections as to the features of the country, characteristics of the people, customs, occupations, amusements, and historic incidents he describes. Indian fairy book; from the original legends. Stokes *$1.50

"Chosen from the many stories collected by Mr. Henry R. Schoolcraft, the first man to study how the Indians lived and to discover their legends. In 1856 this collection of his stories was published by Mason brothers in New York city. It is republished, with revisions and with new illustrations in color, so that these stories may be passed on as they deserve." Foreword

"Best cyclopedia for grammar and country school use and, on the whole, is preferable to Champlin's five volumes and to Appleton's new practical cyclopedia for children's rooms and for very small libraries where the use of a cyclopedia is largely restricted to pupils. The New international is preferable where the library can afford it." A. L. A. bkl.

"Prepared especially for school use, but good for children's room. Fuller than Champlin, and especially useful for modern biography." Wis. free lib. com.

"The books of this series cannot be recommended for small or choice collections because the stories in each volume are so uneven as to merit and interest. They are, however, to be preferred because of their historical bearing, to many stories of adventure which find their way into children's libraries. Based on land and naval engagements of the war of 1812, accounts full of courage and bravery." A. L. A. bkl.

Marooned in the forest. Harper *$1.25 (6-8)

"The hero wins his way back to life and civilization after a winter spent in a northern forest. His struggles with the primitive are related in a readable manner and furnish information on shacks, traps, and weapons, which will interest boys and girls who enjoy life in the open." A. L. A. bkl.

Pets for pleasure and profit. 1915 Scribner *$1.50 (5-8)

"Gives information on care, housing, and feeding of mammals, birds, and reptiles, many of them wild, many not thought of as pets. Very similar to Comstock giving more on the treatment of diseases, not describing so many different kinds of pets, but taking up a few that Comstock does not consider. Line drawings and few photographs are not nearly so attractive as the photographs of children and animals to be found in the other book. Comstock has also good references at chapter-ends, and costs a dollar more." A. L. A. bkl.

Uncle Abner's legacy. Holt *$1.35

Monitor and the Merrimac. 1912 Harper *50c

"Pt 1, 'Monitor and the Merrimac,' told by Lieut. Worden and Lieut. S. D. Greene, is not written by them, but is an extract from Lucius E. Chittenden's 'Recollections of President Lincoln and his administration,' describing a reception given to these officers and the story of the battle as told by them at it; pt 2, 'Merrimac and the Monitor,' is an account of the career of that vessel from the confederate point of view; pt 3, 'Last of the Monitor,' is by an eye-witness, Rear-Admiral E. W. Watson." N. Y. state lib.
